GATHERING NORTHERN DEFENCE. FOR T

EDICT. TSO-LIN'S CHANG

The expected fall of Swatow into the hands of the Cantonese and the consequent flight of General Ho Lung has been reported over the week-end, and a later naval message from the port states that the situation is settling itself. Some of the earlier reports he has pumped into the Butterfield obligations were undertaken by from the border of Shum Chun. have spoken of "White" reprisals on the unfortunate "Reds" who happened to be in the city when it was taken.

The most important happening in China at the moment is the large-scale fighting which has broken out between the Fengtien and Shansi armies, Marshal Chang Tso-lin having ordered a general advance against "the Model Tuchun," General Yen Hsi-shan. This amounts to a serious menace to the North, and thoroughly complicates the general situation.

The difficult situation at Hankow regarding the administration. of the ex-British Concession is revealed in a Reuter's telegram to-day which states that the British members of the Council dispute the legality of the appointment of a new Director owing to the terms of the Chen-O'Malley Agreement not being complied with.

M. Borodin, now in Russia, denies that he left China as a refugee, but states that he had a popular ovation on his departure.

Shoes

The K idea of foot comfort is a shoe that clasps the heel and instep snugly but leaves the toes to move naturally as you walk. If your shoes do not give you this comfort try a plus-fitting K, which has extra but unseen toe room. For instance, a plus 4 fitting K has normal heel and ankle, with extra and concealed room for the toes, while a plus 3 fitting has a normal forepart with a reduced heel to fit a slender ankle.

Remember, too, the better your shoes fit you the longer they will last.

VIGOROUS AND VARIED DISCUSSION.

Ipoh, Sept. 26. Mr. J. S. Arter presided over a very representative meeting of th Planters' Association of Malaya on Saturday, when a lengthy discussion took place on cholera. He did not run very far before he was seized, but prior to this he had dropped the bag, which was retrieved and returned

Unless we Chinese businessmen have learned to acquire the scientific method of 'tackling | banking and commercial problems, we shall lag far behind the western countries in that direction. During the economic crisis of 1925, it was regrettable to observe the helpless and disorganized state of Chinese trade and banking. If we had some such centre like this Exchange wherein to compare notes or exchange ideas with one another, we would have in time built up a mass of organized commonsense knowledge with which to meet calmly any unexpected and grave contingency that by which time the blaze had been might arise. Then again, during the aftermath of the last boycott and strike, we would have been well banded together to solve new issues cropping up in various directions. As ambassadors of commerce we must be well-trained to face hard facts and to know what to do next whenever any complex situation arises. Therefore, we should take the fullest advantage of this occasion to promote the idea of creating some sort of research laboratory, as i were, in this Exchange. It is not at all difficult to carry out the idea, because this building is left idle during a greater part of the day, after the meeting of the members for business, during the forenoon and afternoon, for the matter of some few hours.

A HARBOUR BOARD.

There will be general approva

of the step taken by the Government in approaching business interests in the Colony in connexion with a proposed Harbour Board for " Hongkong. Chief in terest lies, of course, in the fact that the authorities at long last are taking steps to form such a body for the better control of port affairs. It is a project which has been urged repeatedly for a long time, and it is really surprising how behind the times we here have been in this matter. place of Hongkong's importance, which practically reached the peak among the world's ports prior to the boycott of 1925, requires a Harbour Board for its proper administration, if for no other reason than the centralisation of all activities connected with the affairs of its trade, its shipping, and the facilities therefore. The Governmenta-we note: have decided on representation from the Public Works Depart-Imports and Exports Department, besides having unofficial members from the Chambers of Commerce, five in all, two of them Chinese. The great value of such a Board be the co-ordination which will be possible, thus, by obviating over-lapping that may otherwise occur, tending always to efficiency, and preventing any waste of effort or funds through extra and less efficient working by multiciplicity of departments. important still, perhaps, is the probability of a number of matters connected with port development from a fully representative body, so that shipping facilities, so necessary in these days of slack trade, may be increased, and re-are found desirable. The Harbour Master is to be the chairman of the proposed Harbour Board. In many ways the new body will incorporate the Harbour Office work, and thus link the purely Government part of the port administration with the commercial activities of the Colony. The was a small seaport, of a status Master. Actually, the port has grown rapidly in the years that alise how the one is pleasant and front was ordered.

general commendation. So far as the activities of the Board are concerned, one might compare the proposed body with the Harbour Board that exists in Singapore. The history of the southern port's development in this direction is an interesting one. It is many years ago that Singapore had dockyards and workshops, it may be noted, have been incorporated therein. The conditions are entirely different from those prevailing here so far as the administration of the port is concerned. The tendency in Malaya is to associate Government departments with unofficial bodies as much as possible. There, instead of P.W.D. for the big cities, municipalities function, with strong unofficial representation. The Harbour Board, again, has become so officialised that it amounts almost to a State commercial enterprise. Nevertheless, it teaches the same lesson of valuable co ordination. We prefer the scheme of separate interests which Hongkong's Harbour Board is to have but this lesson of co-operation should be borne in mind. One department we particularly desire to see closely linked to unofficial interests is that dealing with our port development. There are many subjects it can consider, the more important ones comprising such matters, for instance, as improved wharfage facilities, under single control. Perhaps we shal also see, when the Harbour Board comes into being, a happy mean struck between the expansive desires of trading interests and the i economical outlook of the administration which has been decided upon. In that accomplishment alone, the Colony would have cause for congratulating itself on the acquisition of a Harbour Board commensurate with its importance as a world port.

Beauty of Simplicity. A most striking object lesson in the beauty and effectiveness of simplicity is being provided now that ment, the Police, the Railway, the the front of the renovated Astor formerly garish exterior, workmen month's hard labour. have discovered a really beautiful front of Hongkong granite which is been found cut in the stonework and, judging by the way this legend has now been retouched and cleaned, it would appear that this l is going to be the name of the rebuilt structure. And in its new aspect, it /makes a very worthy addition to the creditable buildings of the Colony. The beautiful grey of the clean stone is strongly in contrast to the monstrous green hue of the building as we all knew it before, and it is a pity that the Government allows the use of any ments, for it would be a pity to completed before January 1 next cyclone is central over the lower duplicate some of the "horrors" to year.

Over 3,000 cigarettes, on which duty had not been paid, were found by revenue officers secreted in two baskets of carambolas during a search at a fruit-stall in the Central Market during the week-end. A friend was commenting the other day upon the double fact that beards have gone out of fashion, and that we, as a nation, do not follow the lead of His Majesty the King, at least in regard to our hirsute adornments. Then he went on to expatiate upon the change of facial exterior of the "gallant little lads in Navy blue." He was able to remember when it was the exception rather than the rule to find clean-shaven Navy men, and he wondered whether the regulation beard would ever return. At present one has to make special application for permission to wear s beard. Still, these are days when we are everlastingly being called upon to speculate as to whether certain boxers and politicians and jockeys, &c., can "come back," and the possible return of the beard is not altogether to be ignored.

SUCCESSFUL SERVICES MEETING AT KOWLOON.

Service men and members of the public in large numbers were treated to an excellent afternoon's sport on the occasion of the swimming gala for Service men, heldthe Kowloon Dock bathing beach yesterday afternoon. There was a large number of entries. and events were keenly contested.

The gala was arranged by the Kowloon Dock United Services Club for the soldiers and sailors stationed here. No effort had been spared to provide facilities for swimming and sports, and in" addition a series of band concerts were held during the summer months, which have been greatly appreciated by the public as well as the service men.

The public were charged a small fee for the privilege of attending, and it was decided that the money so obtained should be used to provide prizes 2, 404 ($48.45); 3, 209 ($32.30). ed a total of 36 matches. Of these for the transaction of any general for an end of the season gala for yesterday.

Mr. E. Cock thanked the Club for inviting Mrs. Cock to distribute the prizes, and for the gift of spoons.

In giving a brief history of the Club's activities, he said that the idea of its formation originated with Mrs. R. M. Dyer, and in its organisation most of the spade work had been done by her. On Mrs. Dyer's behalf he took it upon himself to thank Mrs. H. G. Cooper, who had been in charge of the canteen throughout the season and also Mr. H.G. Cooper, hon, sec. and Mr. C. In "The Grand Duchess and the Waiter", this actor is more than usually interesting when, portrayed as the self-indulgent millionaire,

Mr. George Hsu Chien who was recently dismissed from Nanking and "expelled" from the Kuomintang, addressed a long telegram to all the members of the Kuomintang, alleging that he was in no way connected with the plot of the Nanking and the Hankow factions of the Kuomintang.

OUR DAILY TALK ON HEALTH.

HOT AND COLD BATHS FOR DISEASE.

AS STIMULANTS.

Since the earliest times, water has been much used in the treatment of disease, including not only the hot and cold bath, but also special applications such as alternation, sudden sprays, continuous flow and similar modifications. The first action of either hot or cold water is probably stimulating, particularly if suddenly applied.

Surf bathing, as pointed out by Dr. Guy Hinsdale, is a helpful exercise, since it stimulates the body to react against the cold wa-

A bath ranging in temperature Bandits are showing increasing from 94 to 95 degrees fahrenheit is called an indifferent bath, since it does not place any toil upon the heat regulating apparatus of the body.

The carbonated water of the Nauheim bath, named for the springs in Germany, is a tonic bath, used particularly for, its effects on the heart and blood vessels. These baths are not given unless under competent supervision, but they are gradually increasing in their use and are applied at many special resorts in the United States and in the hospitals at many institutions.

In the treatment of many conditions in which it is desired to encourage elimination, patients are | AT THE submitted to the heat of incandescent lamps or steamed in a cabinet in order to induce free perspiration. Hau Chien goes on to explain that, although he was elected chairman of the Wu-Han Political Conference, the election was made suddenly, and he was not informed nor had he any knowledge of his being elected beforehand. Though he could not say that he was not in any way to be blamed for working with the Communists in Hankow and for occupying posts in the Hankow Government before the recent coup, there were also other members of the Kuomintang in the Hankow Government who, in opinion of Hsu Chien, should also be blamed. For his working with the Hankow Government he was attacked recently by some of his fellow-members of the Kuomintang, and for this he would resign from all the posts which he had occupied in Hankow. In fact, he would cease al henceforth, and would spend the rest of his life in earning his living by writing.
